This workshop focuses on practical applications for team leaders, project managers, emerging leaders, project teams, and senior executives who want to achieve higher levels of success on important change projects. The effects of change on individuals and ways to help the organization keep the end result in mind will be explored. Individuals will have an opportunity to get expert advice and feedback.

The workshop includes:
- Assessment tools for analyzing change dynamics
- Knowledge of the essential steps that drive effective change processes
- Insight into how to increase positive receptivity to change
- How to be strategic in advocating for change across organizational lines
- Feedback on participant’s change project

Paula Wilder has served over 20 years helping organizations plan and execute strategic change. She has provided organizational effectiveness consulting, facilitated groups, and provided coaching services to more than 60 organizations in 15 different industry sectors. She is a registered organization development consultant, a certified professional facilitator through the International Association of Facilitators, a qualified MBTI instructor, a certified trainer through Power and Systems, Inc., and a co-owner in Appreciative Inquiry Consulting. Paula holds a master’s degree in organization development and applied behavioral science from American University/National Training Labs.

The workshop will be held at the Virginia Tech Roanoke Center, located on the seventh floor of the Roanoke Higher Education Center at 108 N. Jefferson Street in Roanoke. Check-in registration is from 8:30-9:00 am, and the workshop hours are 9:00 am – 4:00 pm.

The registration fee is $259 per person and includes instruction, class materials, lunch, and refreshments. Register online at www.cpe.vt.edu/reg/masteringchange by October 2.

For further information, contact Kay Dunkley at kdunkley@vt.edu or 540-767-6103.